Title:

Kleinhans, Chuck

Biographical Sketch

Chuck Kleinhans was one of the most influential film scholars and activists of the era of the New Left. He has been described as “a connoisseur of documentary and the avant-garde and sexual representation and everything in between, local and global” and “a legendary piercer of bullshit and complacency in academia and on the left and everywhere else” (Waugh, 2018). He was a prolific writer and reviewer, with publications in journals such as the Journal of Visual Culture, Film Appreciation, Cinematograph, Journal of Film and Video, Cinémaction, Women and Film, Cinema Journal, Film Quarterly, Dialogue: An Art Journal, and many more. He inspired a number of prominent film scholars, particularly scholars of adult film history and queer film history, such as Linda Williams, Chris Straayer, Rox Samer and Peter Alilunas, as well as Canadian filmmakers and scholars John Greyson, Sara Halpern, and Tom Waugh.

Kleinhans was Associate Professor Emeritus in the Radio/Television/Film Department at Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois. From 1977 to 2009, he taught courses in microcomputer graphics, film and video making, sexual representation, media literacy, popular culture, experimental film/video, Hollywood cinema, and digital culture, among others. His research and teaching interests included the history and aesthetics of experimental and documentary work; mass culture; sexual representation in visual communications, and aesthetic, ethical and political issues in cross cultural media analysis. He accumulated a large amount of primary source material relating to his research on pornography. In 2007, the Society for Cinema and Media Studies awarded him its Outstanding Pedagogical Achievement Award.

He co-founded Jump Cut: A Review of Contemporary Media, with Julia Lesage and John Hess in 1974. The journal focuses on the analysis of film, television, video, and related media, was published in print until 2001. With his spouse Julia Lesage, he continued to co-edit Jump Cut online until his passing in 2017.
