Biographical History

Marin Boyle (aka Allura) is a Toronto-based nonbinary and bisexual multidisciplinary DIY artist whose work focuses on queer and trans pleasure, often depicting moments of gender euphoria.

They draw inspiration from their past as a kink educator and bondage enthusiast, with their rope work appearing in two instructional books. They are best known for creating more than 250 small scale realistic, thread-painted body portraits working as 'NSFW Embroidery'. They produced micro-distributed zines, most notably authoring the pro-sex work zine 'Its My First
